Our Casket Selection

Our Casket Selection

Choosing a casket, whether it is English or American style, is an important part of arranging a funeral for a loved one and the choice of casket will be influenced by the personality of your loved one, cultural traditions and the type of funeral you are arranging.

We have carefully curated a range of caskets in a variety of styles and materials to help you celebrate the unique life of your loved one. The English-style caskets in our range are hand-crafted from responsibly sourced materials and have undergone extensive testing to ensure they meet strict industry standards and are approved by the FFMA. Our American-style caskets are crafted in North America from premium hardwoods and various metals, such as bronze, copper and steel.

Your funeral arranger will be happy to guide you through our selection to enable you to choose the right casket for your loved one.
